++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy with isolated spells of rain.

Today:
Rather cloudy, with occasional light rain, especially further north and east. Somewhat cooler than recent days across the north of the region but staying mild in the south. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Tonight:
A mixture of cloud and clearer spells. Any prolonged clear intervals may allow isolated mist and fog patches to develop. The odd spell of rain also possible in the south. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Saturday:
A cool start to Saturday where skies are clear, but steadily turning cloudier and milder through the day. Remaining dry with a moderate breeze developing along western coasts. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Largely fine on Sunday with a decent amount of sunshine away from the far west. Turning more unsettled and breezier next week and remaining mild by day and night.
